COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 16.-The connections of the Seaboard between Camden and Caseys, just across the Congaree river from Columbia, have been

Pending the slow building of the steel had a ready been run, all the iron and the line being brought over that trestle. This wooden bridge has been swept away and besides causing considerable financial loss, will delay the connection with the Florida Central and Peninsuar for an indefinite time. Had the wooden bridge not given away as soon as it did, the timpers would have taken away the uncompleted steel bridge, but the wrecked structure passed under the steel works. Two hours later it would have demolished the other. At Columbia the temporary bridge has been carried away. This was used to carry material to workmen on the granite piers. The building on the other part of the road has progressed rapidly. Track has been laid to Columbia and the only section uncompleted is from the city limits to the iron bridge.
